

JANUARY 2023

GARDENING TO DO'S

Happy New Year!
January is the perfect time to plan your seed saving garden. For more information on how to get started, visit Seedsavers.org

According to the Farmers' Almanac
Redford's 2023 Frost Dates are:

Last Spring Frost: May 8

First Fall Frost: October 9

That's 154 Growing Days!

GARDENING TO DO'S FOR JANUARY

Start seeds indoors for alliums, perennials, and herbs that need a long season or cold-treatment before transplanting outdoors.

Inventory your seed supply and make lists of what you need and what you want to try.

PLAN YOUR GARDEN LAYOUT.

Inspect your houseplants and plants overwintering indoors for pests that thrive indoors during the winter. Look for tiny webs, tiny insects on the undersides of leaves or flying near the plants, black soot on leaves and stems, and cottony tufts in the leaf axils.

Check your bird feeders often to clean and restock.
